DEATH OF JUDGE BROOKS.—We are called upon to record the death of an old and influential citizen of Dayton, Judge JAMES BROOKS. He was a man of much influence because of his strict integrity—a man of strong intellect and decisive character—one who knew no neutrality on questions of any character—an uncompromising Democrat, and as a friend always to be relied on.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, on First street, Sunday, at half past two in the afternoon.

POLICE ITEMS.—Pat Delaney, Mike Egan, and a man named Coffman, were arrested by Marshal Hale, last evening, and brought before Mayor Kenney this morning. Delaney and Egan charged with assaulting and fighting Coffman, for which the Mayor, on a hearing of the case, assessed them $25.00 each, and sent them to jail for ten days. Coffman, the third party in the case, was assessed $5.00.

John Kurlger, taken up as a "yag," was discharged.

Fred. Krause, who hails from Cincinnati, was also before the Mayor this morning. Fred. was a stranger—no money and nothing to do—was discharged on condition that he would leave the city.

Says a Jump organ: "The people have made up their mind on the unbecoming farce played in UNDERWOOD'S Varieties."

Yes, that's true, and they have about made up their mind on the still more unbecoming bloody tragedy played by ANN LINCOLN, ED. STANTON, BILL SEWARD, JOE HOLT and their supporters, "supers" and property boys, at an expense to the people of thousands of lives and millions of treasure. They are beginning to see the great mistake made by the "management" in the "cast," giving a "low comedy" man the principal character in such a play as has lately been witnessed.

DEAD.—Mr. BROWN, the old gentleman who has excited so much wonder in our community because of the number of days he lived without partaking of food, died yesterday. As near as we can learn, this old gentleman was eighty-four years of age, and eighty-four was the number of days he lived without eating. May this fact not be set down as a coincidence worthy the attention of those who incline to a belief in spiritual manifestations, and to the idea that spirits have a controlling influence upon the existence and actions of mankind. And the fact of his long existence without food and an examination of his body by our surgeons and medical men, may serve the purpose of an interesting investigation, if not a development of some great fact heretofore unknown to our scientific men.

Mr. Brown has borne among his friends and acquaintances a most excellent character for truthfulness and honesty of purpose, and we, therefore, are the more fully inclined to believe his statements relative to his peculiar condition during the eighty-four days which he claimed he was under the control of spirits and receiving his food at their hands through the medium of the atmosphere.

Mr. Brown stated that the spirits gave him warning in time to make all the necessary preparations for leaving this world, that his natural physical death would take place on the 28th of February last, but that his spirit would remain in the body but strictly under their control. From the time stated as the period of his physical death, and for fifty-three days of the time the spirits had control of him, he asserted that he felt no pain—had no desire to eat, and did not partake of food. At the end of that time, however, he said they began to withdraw the food they were furnishing, and on the sixteenth day, after a consultation with a spirit-physician from a higher sphere, they withdrew his food entirely and created an appetite, which he was told was to induce him to eat and produce a diarrhoea that would enable them to separate the spiritual from the physical more completely. He partook of a little coffee and cracker for three or four days, when a diarrhoea set in, which continued up to the time of his death, yesterday. For the last twenty-one days of his existence, we have the assurance that he neither ate or drank of anything.

His is a most singular case, indeed, and worthy of investigation. For ourselves, we are spiritually skeptical, but what we have seen and learned in reference to Mr. Brown, has produced a desire to have the matter investigated, and the result of the investigation given to the world.

We understand that the funeral of Mr. Brown will take place on Sunday.

THE MUZZLE—A SHARP BITE.—The Cincinnati Commercial, of this morning, evidently were no muzzle. See its worrying bite of the Journal:

"The Dayton papers are full of mysterious squibs on the muzzling question. The Mayor there has published a mandate, in which the following occurs: 'I hereby issue my proclamation to the inhabitants of the city of Dayton, warning them that it is unlawful for any person owning, or having control of, or harboring any dog, or animal of the dog kind, to run at large for the term of sixty days from the publication of this proclamation, without being properly muzzled.' It is presumed that the Mayor made a slip of the pen here, and he is the object of many diurnal jocund paragraphs. How do these vain persons know that their Magistrate failed to write what he intended? Will the Journal oblige our perplexed metropolis by removing its muzzle and telling us what grounds it has for supposing that the Mayor is not in earnest? This must be done before we become convulsed with reflected mirth over the muzzling of animals that drink beer and talk scandal, instead of those that only bark and howl, and lap nothing stronger than the crystal waters of the Big Miami. 'He laughs best who laughs last.'"

Bro. Bick's laugh will probably be more like a growl or a bark, or a yowl of the tin-pail-tail or narrative sensation.

The number of prisoners in the Ohio Penitentiary is 975, of which number 940 are males and 35 females.

We have on hand a fresh supply of good jobbing lugs and are prepared to do work in a neat and workmanlike manner, and on short notice.

A $10,000 VERDICT.—Before Judge Storck, in the Cincinnati Superior Court, on Wednesday, M. H. Bartlett obtained a judgment of damages in $10,150, against the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The plaintiff sued for damages resulting from delay in transportation of a large quantity of pork and lard from Chillicothe, Ohio, via the Marietta & Cincinnati and Baltimore & Ohio railroads to New York. The freight was so long on the way that the plaintiff was unable to fill the contract he made for its delivery, and the price declining, he was obliged to sell at a heavy loss.

The defense was that the Baltimore road was threatened and partially destroyed by the rebels, and that one bridge was taken away by a fresher. The shipment was made in April, 1862. It was also urged that the United States military authorities took possession of the cars whenever the public necessity required, and hence the delay, against which they claimed to have provided by inserting in the bill of lading or receipt for the freight, a stipulation that they were not to be held liable for delay from such causes.

A DISHONEST CLERK.—A young clerk, named Wm. F. Welsh, employed for only a few months back, in the extensive store of Shillito & Co., Cincinnati, was yesterday detected in having carried on a systematic scheme of robbery. The officers, who were put on his track, after making the arrest, searched his room and found a large lot of the missing goods—laces, silks of the most valuable qualities, gloves, &c.—where he had secreted them in his trunks and between the sheets and mattress of his bed. Among letters found were two that revealed the fact that he had come from Washington, Iowa, where he had been under bonds to appear for trial on some charge not revealed, and that he had forfeited his bond. He is probably sure of a free pass to the stone-front hotel, at Columbus.

THE WAR OF THE EXPRESS COMPANIES.—An Auburn dispatch says the Executive Committee of the Merchants' Union Express Company have passed, by a unanimous vote, resolutions that they will make no compromise with the old express companies. They assert that their company is in a most prosperous and healthy condition.

Among the joint stock companies chartered recently under the general act, are those of the Dayton Furniture Company, capital stock $30,000; and the Marysville Hotel Company, capital stock, $25,000.

Go to the premium Shoe Store for fine boots—east of Canal, on Fifth. May 24, '67dt.

The prettiest patterns in vests and pants we have seen this season are at the Eagle. Schwarz knows his business. Give him a call. May 22, '67.

One of the special dishes at "Donson Station" lunch, to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock, will be Mackinac Trout Chowder, which, with turtle soup and all the spring caterpillars, will surely be inviting. May 24, '67dt.

DON'T MISTAKE THE PLACE.—The Eagle Clothing Store is the place to buy first class goods at lower prices than any other store. Don't be stopped on the way, but be sure to examine the stock before purchasing elsewhere. It will pay you to call at the Eagle first. Remember the place, 115 Main street. May 22, '67.

A just verdict, given by thousands of buyers, that at Goodman's cheap Boot and Shoe store, 110 Main street, there can always be found an excellent and well made up stock of boots and shoes, gaiters, slippers, &c., for less money than elsewhere. We have reduced men's calf boots to $3 a pair, and all other as cheap in proportion. Those who wish to save had better call there first, if the saving of money is their object. Having also received a full line of spring hats for men, boys and children's wear, direct from the manufacturer, we are enabled to offer great inducements to purchasers. Everything in the boot and shoe line made to order, and good fits guaranteed. Also, repairing neatly done and promptly attended to. S. GOODMAN, 110 Main street. May 13, '67.

EVERY BODY ADMITS.—That no man in the business works as faithfully and zealously for the interests of his customers, as Schwarz, of the Eagle Clothing Store. He well deserves the large and increasing patronage he receives, especially from the farmers and the mechanics and working men of the city. April 24, '67.

Harries' Cassimere Suits, genuine, (warranted), and custom made, just received at the Eagle Clothing Store, 115 Main street. May 22, '67.

WHY IS IT?—The question is daily asked "What is the secret of Schwarz' success in the clothing trade?" It is readily answered. He sells the best quality of clothing at lower rates than any other house, and by a fair and honorable system of dealing, has secured the confidence of the public. That tells the whole story. May 8, '67.

Attention is called to the advertisement of H. SCHWARTZ, Clothing Merchant, in another column. Read it, before purchasing elsewhere.

"DODSON'S STATION."—A nice LUNCH, at 10 o'clock A. M., EVERY DAY, EXTRA MEALS, at all hours. GAME of every variety in season. A. L. REED, WINES and stronger liquors, cigars, &c., unsurpassed. May 6, '67-dt.

HOUSE WANTED.—A house containing six or seven rooms, and the necessary out-houses attached, is wanted by a family. One in the eastern part of the city preferred. Leave word at this office. If
